Faulk, J. P. Boy- ette and J. N. Wallace, went over to see just what Mr. James is do- ing over on the old Ed. Lee farm. The main thing, of course, that the above named gentlemen were interested in were the winter peas. After looking the field over good, a uniform average spot was select- ed to make the weighing of green matter to determine how much ni- trogen he had. After locating the plot a square, ten feet each way, was measured and the peas were cut from this square smooth with the ground and weighed. It was found that this square had 37 pounds of green matter, which means that the peas had	Elba Hi School Attains Good Rating In Colle The Elba High School of third among 35 city high sel in the number of freshmen fail reported by colleges in Alabaccording to a report compile the State Department of Edition and forwarded last wee all schools and colleges in State.
